CHARLES G. EMACK DEAD.

Former Washington Real Estate Man Expires at Beltsville, Md. Special to The Washington Herald.

Hyattsville, Md., April 5.—Charles G. Emack, a well-known citizen of Parkton, Baltimore County, died last yesterday afternoon at "Locust Grove," the home of his brother, Edward G. Emack, at Beltsville, Prince George County, aged fifty-one years. Mr. Emack was born at Locust Grove, and spent most of his life in agricultural pursuits. He was a son of the late Elbert G. and Margaret Emack, of Washington, D. C., who in 1860 purchased Locust Grove, which has remained in the family ever since. Besides his wife, who was Mrs. Marion Rampley Humes, widow of George C. Humes, of Prince George County, he is survived by two stepdaughters, Mrs. E. Walker Duval, of Chertaw, S. C., and Mrs. Philip C. Turner, of Barbourville, Va.

FREIGHT CONDITIONS RUINOUS

Richmond Shippers Suffer from Lack of Terminal Facilities.

May Take Railroads from Three to Six Years Before the Desired Relief Can Be Hoped For.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Richmond, Va., April 5.—That the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Atlantic Coast Line, and the Seaboard Air Line railroads are getting to be the ruinous freight conditions here, due to lack of adequate freight terminal facilities, is being recognized by anxious shippers to some extent.

The Chesapeake and Ohio is laying three tracks over the old terminal basin with a view of bettering its facilities. This road will also, in conjunction with the Seaboard, use the present site of the Main street station as a freight terminal and delivery house for fast freight. The roads are, however, moving very slowly with their new union passenger station plans. It may be anywhere from three to six years before the desired relief can be hoped for. The Atlantic Coast Line has recently purchased more property in Manchester, where terminals will be built.

There are to-day, loaded, 2,000 cars standing idle in the yards of the Atlantic Coast Line and the Chesapeake and Ohio railroads waiting for the Southern Railway to move them. Many of these cars contain material which has been delivered to the roads from Richmond and Manchester manufacturers and merchants for delivery along the line of the Southern.

The Southern seems so far from being able to relieve this frightful state of congestion that it has placed an embargo against receiving more than twenty-five of these cars each day from the number here waiting. At this rate it will take forty days to remove the loaded cars now in the yards. The merchants and manufacturers are receiving inquiries from their patrons as to why their orders are not delivered. It is probable that many of the orders will be canceled.

WIFE-BEATER WHIPPED.

Negro Gets Nine Lashes in Baltimore City Jail.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Baltimore, Md., April 5.—Saylor Brooks, colored, convicted of beating his wife and sentenced to two months imprisonment in jail and nine lashes on his bare back, was whipped this afternoon.

Brooks was manacled to the whipping post, which was erected in the main rotunda of the city jail, and Deputy Sheriff Joseph Helme applied the lash, while Sheriff Radgett, who was officiating in charge of the whipping, counted the strokes. The lash was an ordinary cat-o'-nine-tails with nine thongs, and in actuality Brooks received eighty-nine lashes. The punishment appeared to hardly discommode the negro. He smiled when fastened to the extended cross-arms of the post, and after the whipping had been administered he smiled again as he was being unfastened and led to the office of the jail physician. It is hardly likely that Dr. Wilkins will be obliged to spend much time in dressing Brooks' back for the lash hardly left a mark. It may have stung the negro a little, but if it did he made no exclamation, and did not even flinch as the nine thongs struck him.

WASHINGTON PASTORS—X.

BISHOP HENRY YATES SATTERLEE.

Right Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Washington, is one of the best known churchmen in this country. His career has been one of unusual activity since his entry into religious work, and he has made and sustained a reputation as a scholar, organizer, and orator. He was born in New York City in 1842. He received his early education in the common schools of that city before entering Columbia College, where he was graduated in 1862, with the degree of A. B. A few years afterward the degree of M. A. was conferred on him by his alma mater, while from time to time other honorary diplomas have been given him. After leaving college he entered the General Theological Seminary in New York, and on finishing there accepted the charge as rector of the Zion Church, Wappinger Falls, N. Y. For seventeen years he discharged this duty, until he was called as pastor of the Calvary Church in New York, where he served until he was elected Bishop of Washington in 1896. Immediately after his consecration Bishop Satterlee organized the Society for the Building of a Cathedral, and a girls' school, with ground and drawings for a great edifice on Wisconsin avenue, is the result. Since his assumption of the bishopric the number of communicants in this city has almost doubled, while a corresponding increase in the mission work and diocesan organization has been felt. He was married early in life to Miss Churchill, of New York, and had two children, one of whom is dead. He preaches at the Cathedral, which is now the Pro-Cathedral. He is the founder of the House of Mercy, as well as many other charities, which have alleviated much suffering in the city. As an author Bishop Satterlee has attained no small reputation, his books being "Christ in His Church," "A Creedless Gospel and a Gospel Creed," and "New Testament Churchmanship and Communicant Fellowship."

NO CAUSES FOR WAR NOW.

Rabbi Simon Declares Peace for the World is Necessary.

"Universal peace and international arbitration" was the theme of a forceful sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. Abraham Simon, rabbi of Eighth Street Temple, last night. Dr. Simon contended that the question of peace is pre-eminently one of religion. He said that no more favorable place than The Hague could have been chosen to deliberate on such an eventful subject, and that the Netherlands has always been the haven of refuge for the oppressed. Dr. Simon said: "The place is most favorable; the men chosen to discuss the great issue are the cream of their governments; the cause to be discussed is the greatest of the world; and the time was never more propitious."

"It is at The Hague conference," continued the speaker, "where the massacre of Jews in Russia and Roumania will be called to account, and where a stop will be put to the ravages of the Russian revolution. There is no power that is more sincere in its protestations for peace than America. There ever has been a justification in the past for war that justification is now lost. The so-called war patriots have seen their day."

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES.

The antiphon "Regina Coeli" is said during Paschal time in place of the Gloria, and is said standing. In the second century Tertullian laid stress upon the fact that on Sundays, and during this holy Easter time, the faithful do not kneel but stand in offering their prayers to God. A curious medieval legend connects the Regina Coeli with this season and with the name of Pope St. Gregory the Great. It is related by Dunstan that a pestilence having broken out in Rome at Easter time, the Pope took part in it, and as they reached the city in which the picture of the Virgin, a choir of angels was heard singing above the picture, "O Queen of heaven, rejoice, Alleluia; for whom thou didst desire to bear, Alleluia; has risen as he said, Alleluia." Then Pope Gregory added the last line, "Pray for us to God, Alleluia," and bade this antiphon always to be sung at Easter.

HOLY THINITY CHURCH: Much interest is manifested by the people of the parish in the entrance of the Holy Trinity Church, which is called to it. We are interested in the Hague conference as American citizens. There is no power that is more sincere in its protestations for peace than America. There ever has been a justification in the past for war that justification is now lost. The so-called war patriots have seen their day."
